Singine, "A Threnohy Write for me now. Julia Ward-Julia Ward-Julia Ward Howe!"

Came a fire company
Under the sash,
Rearing the ladders there,
Quick as a flash;
Crying, "To rescue thee
Nowhich ascends;
Boston man, Boston man,
Help bring thy friends!"

Peered then the Boston man Down through the smoke. O'er where the ladder-end Casemont had broke: Asking, with dignity: "Answer me tribe.

"Answer me true" Norwich men, Norwich men, What would ye do!" Un spake a Norwich man,

We, by thy city's light, Come to assist: Boston man, Boston man, Give us thy fist!

Back sprang the Boston man, Splendidly proud. Saying, while flames around Wove him a shroud: Outside assistance is Of him the scorn, Gentlemen, Gentlemen, Who's Boston born?

Wildly the Norwich men Swarmed up, amain, Valuly, to rescue him Vainly, to rescue as Seen not nead; And e'en a Threnody Writen for him now Julia Ward-Julia Ward-Julia Ward-Howe! Julia Ward Howe!

The gentleman liked the first kiss so well that he took two more, sandwiching each with a hasty, sheepish glance around, to see if any one was looking at him. But he was seen. The first kiss, which resounded like the popping of a champagne cork, attracted the attention of the inmates of a certain private board-ing-house, hard by, who, with one accord, rushed pell-mell to the win-dow, just in time to see the lucky "chap" take the two last "busses." It was a mean trick for the inmates to do so, but alas for human weakness and curiosity. They "larfed" a tremendous "larf," so loud that the couple looked up to the window and knew that other eyes than their own had witnessed their little tetea-tete. They left that locality, and haven't been seen since. Kissing on the street is pleasant exercise, but it is

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Humbug Dissected.—Quaint old Burton has favored us with an "Anatomy of Melan-choly," but who shall dissect the melancholy fallacies and fibs with which knaves and fanaties endeavor to delude the sick and feeble of this generation. Charlatans, through the newspaper press, recommend to the strength-less victim of disease convulsing purgatives which, if taken, are sure to turn his debilitated system almost inside out, and sink him into the uttermost depths of helplessness an despondency! Fanatics, on the other hand, assure the prostrate patient that no medicine containing a diffusive stimulant ought to pass his lips. If he elects to be guided by the ad-vice of imposters and lunatics, let him make his will and order his coffin; but if there is a spark of common sense in his composition, le him resort in his extremity to Hostetter's tomach Bitters, the most potent of vegetabl tonics and alteratives—the purest and mos entirely wholesome of medicated stimulants. The wonderful cures of dyspepsia, biliousness, rheumatism, physical prostration and malar-ious fevers, which this rure specific has effected during the last twenty-two years, are th most conclusive answers that can be given to the enemics of mankind who offer volcanic atharties as tonies, and to the mistaken beings who refuse a medicinal stimulant to poor, broken-down invalid, who is literally dying by inches for the want of judicious stimulation. Temperance, properly under-stood, countenances ne such folly as this. The State laws enacted to put down the abborrent vice of drunkenness, provide for the sale of brandy, whisky, and other liquors as medirines; and if these adulterated liquors of trade are accepted by temperance legislators as remedies, what ought to be the general ver diet of the temperance public as regards the peerless vegetable tonic based upon a stimu-
